

FIREMEN'S DANCE AT MOKENA SATURDAY

Park Board Plans
Program for Community

An organized recreational plan for Mokena during the summer months was assured by action of the park board this week.

The board has hired J. Herbert (Jim) Wrath, head of the department of physical education in the Mokena school, to direct the program. It is to have its beginning June 6 and will continue to Aug. 26. A committee made up of Mrs. George H. Bills, chairman, Mrs. Hugo Miethammer and Ray Hooelahan, is to aid Mr. Wrath.

A planned program is to be set up for the youngsters five days a week and with some activities for the week end. The program will be designed to fit children of all age groups, it was said. And if adults show interest in any activities, a program will be set up for them for the evening and week ends. Mr. Wrath and the committee would like to get an expression from youngsters and adults as to their desires.

The Little League and Pony League schedules will be fitted into the program too, it was said.

The Park board operates on a budget made up of a portion of the proceeds of the homecoming festival so naturally there is not an over-supply of money, it was pointed out.

Since the money is limited the board is looking for help in the form of equipment. It is the hope of those backing the program that the various organizations in the community that have recreational equipment will loan it to the committee.

And individuals are asked to look into attics and storage spaces to see if they have any equipment that they can lend or donate - baseball bats, gloves, baseballs, softballs, basketballs, volleyballs, badminton sets, croquet sets, tennis rackets, nets, horseshoe and quilt sets and other articles that can be used in the recreation program.

Persons who can loan or donate such articles are asked to call Mrs. Bills at 2573, or any member of the committee or Mr. Wrath.

The meeting of the park board was held in the village hall with Charles Swannberg, Clarence Lauffer, Henry Clark, Harley Mann, Gerritt Swart, Mrs. Hooelahan, T. Arthur Shoop, Mrs. Shoop and Mrs. Bills in attendance.

Besides putting the machinery in motion to assure the community of a recreation program for the summer, the board settled the question of names of the parks. Hereafter the new park will be known as the community park. It has been called the village park and thus confused with the original and smaller village park.

Community park, which is located just south of the village limits, is comprised of 26 acres and is calculated to serve the surrounding area as well as the village proper, hence the name Community park.

The water committee was empowered to proceed with installation of 1,100 feet of pipe to connect up with a water outlet near the ball diamond.

Henry Clark is to get plans for an entrance gate and sign for the park. Backstops for the ball diamonds are being built by volunteer labor and most of the material is donated.

The Girl Scouts were given permission to use Community park as a campsite June 20-24.

Will County Chorus
To Sing In
New Lenox May 15

Under direction of Art Eneix, the Will county chorus will offer its Spring Concert at Haven school in New Lenox Sunday afternoon, May 15 at 2:30 p.m.

The chorus has quite a reputation for good singing and an excellent repertoire. In 1953, they won the coveted gold cup at Springfield State fair for being the best chorus in Illinois in competition for three consecutive years. They have appeared on television and radio on numerous occasions, and in various concerts all around the country. They made a spectacular trip to Washington, D. C. some years ago for the Centennial and sang at the Capital Plaza.

The chorus is composed of men and women from all walks of life, all with a love of music. It had its inception in 1946 with Mr. Eneix as director. Mr. Eneix, the chorus feels, is tops in his field as a director. He has studied at the various Fred Waring workshops, and developed a lot of the Waring techniques along with individual ones of his own. He also directs the Stout Heated Men of Joliet.

Participating in the concert from New Lenox are: Mrs. Sam Carr, Mrs. Mamie Hamilton, Mrs. Alice Archibald, Mrs. Elaine Gray, Mrs. Lucille Reinert and Mrs. Theresa Spreitzer.

The church held its mother-daughter banquet Tuesday evening, May 3, in VFW hall, with 87 present. The affair was sponsored by the Ladies' Missionary Society. Speakers were Mrs. Connie Runia, of Mokena, and her sister, Miss Jewel Freeman, 16, of Oak Lawn. They spoke on the Christian responsibility of mothers and daughters. Ditch Cave-In Endangers Life of Worker

Arrow points to victim of cave-in, Jean Mslouski, of Tinley Park, who has just been unearthed by electricians working in the area, who came to rescue at call of Harold Larimore, a fellow worker.

Jean Mslouski, 28, of 183rd and Crawford ave., Tinley Park, had a narrow escape a few days ago, while working in a 12-foot ditch in the northeast Parkside area. At about 1:10 p.m. while he was digging, a cave-in avalanched upon him, burying him under three or four feet of dirt. The only persons nearby were Harold Larimore and Bob Bettenhausen, who were working with Mslouski.

They rushed to Mslouski's side and began scooping up the dirt with their hands as fast as they could, in an effort keep his face uncovered, so he could manage to breathe. Having cleared his face, Larimore called for help from electricians working in the area, which undoubtedly saved Mslouski's life. The electricians rushed to the scene with their equipment, using a scoop to remove the heavy weight of dirt that had piled on the accident victim. Within minutes after the accident occurred, the inhalator squad arrived and administered first aid.

Mslouski was removed to Ingall's Memorial hospital in Harvey, where he was admitted to the emergency room and x-rays taken. It was discovered that he was suffering from shock and bruises, he was alright, and was permitted to return to his home.

POWER FIRMS TO USE ATOMS

An atom power plant is to be built at the west of Joliet by a group of electric utility companies at a cost of 45 million dollars, if approval is forthcoming from the atomic energy commission.

The proposed site is just inside the Grundy county line, near the confluence of the Des Plaines and Kankakee rivers, and consists of 750 acres. It is west of Route 66, between Smith's bridge and the Kankakee river bridge.

The proposed plant would produce 180,000 kilowatts through steam power. The steam would be produced by using fissioning uranium as fuel to boil the water to make the steam. The steam then flows to the turbine, which spins the generator that makes the electricity.

This type of reactor was developed at the Argonne national laboratory near Lemont.

The plant is the largest all-nuclear station yet scheduled. It is sponsored by the nuclear power group and will be owned and operated by the Commonwealth Edison company of Chicago, which is putting up 30-million toward the contract price, plus half a million dollars for the plant site.

Commonwealth also will spend an estimated 4 1/2 million dollars on transmission facilities to integrate the proposed plant with its transmission system.

General Electric is scheduled to be the prime contractor and Betchel Corporation is to act as engineer-contractor for G. E. It will take five years to build the plant, it was estimated.

All of the money required to build the plant is from private sources. No government funds are involved.

In a statement issued by the Nuclear Power Group it was pointed out that Nuclear fuel is many times more plentiful than fossil fuels, and assures an adequate supply regardless of how much demand there is for electricity.

The use of nuclear fuel, it was said, may prove to be one of the greatest developments in the history of the electric utility industry.

This Sunday, May 15, open house will be conducted at the cathedral for non-Catholics, beginning at 4 p.m. A conducted tour will be made and an explanation given of the principal features of the edifice. It was said that this probably will be the last conducted tour at the cathedral.

Residents of this area may take justifiable pride in their fire department. Many thousands of dollars worth of property have been saved during the past year, and human life safeguarded, and, undoubtedly, in some cases saved. On several occasions the fire department went to other communities to give assistance in fires that were beyond the capacity of local fire fighters.

Aside from the moral and civic responsibility of giving hearty support to the fireman's dance, there is the element of enjoyment to be considered. The Mokena volunteer fireman's dance is one of the big events of the year in Mokena. A fine orchestra has been engaged for the occasion, and for those who do not care to dance there will be the usual tables for pinochle or other card games. Those who care for neither dancing or cards will certainly enjoy the music and gaiety all about them, and will also have a fine opportunity to visit with neighbors and friends, to say nothing of possibly participating in the awards, which are numerous and valuable.

Everybody in town will be there, and a lot of people from out of town, so don't miss it!

Fire is either malevolent or benevolent, but when it enters the role of the first named, as everybody knows, its time to call out the fire department. Furthermore, fire in this evil role is unpredictable, however careful a person may be. The next time the fire siren blows it may be for you!

That is why everybody in Mokena and surrounding area should plan to attend the 10th annual dance and pinochle tournament given by Mokena's Community Fire Department Saturday night, May 14, at VFW hall, on Wolf road.

Each year the fireman's dance is getting bigger and more enjoyable. This, in itself, furnishes ample reason for a large attendance at this affair - but there is a better reason why this event should be given priority Saturday night. Your fire department, which is at your beck and call every day and night in the year, works without pay. When the fire siren blows every man in the department is up and on his way, whether the siren blows at the crack of dawn or at high noon, winter or summer, spring or fall. These men never refuse to answer a call for help, whether those who put in the call have contributed to the cause or not. They drop their work, whatever it may be, and get going. Their employers generously permit time off, if the call comes during working hours, so they can go to the aid of those in distress.

The Mokena volunteer fire department means self-assurance for all within a wide radius. It means lower insurance rates, too, and peace of mind for home owners. Imagine on what an uneasy pillow Mokena residents would lay down to sleep at night if there were no fire department here to stand between them and the fire demon!

While it is true that the volunteer fireman are not on a payroll, the expenses of maintaining the department are considerable. It costs money to operate and maintain fire-fighting equipment, which is constantly depreciating, and to buy new equipment as it is needed. An increasing number of calls is being made each year, as the population of Mokena increases. Homes are being built closer and closer together, and this, of course, gives fire the advantage and increases the fire hazard.

The Mokena volunteer firemen report response to their mailing, in which two tickets and four donation receipts were sent out some time ago, all of which augurs a splendid attendance at the dance, meaning a fine time for all who attend. Tickets and donations may be made in Boleman's drug store, or at the Cooper and Hostert garage.

Newcomers to Mokena, and those who have moved into this area in the past two or three years, should feel inclined to be particularly generous, for the Mokena fire department, which offers equal protection to them, has been building up for a long time, and its equipment is the result of the accumulated effort and generosity of Mokena's citizens over a long period, the benefit of which comes to new residents without any investment.

Residents of this area may take justifiable pride in their fire department. Many thousands of dollars worth of property have been saved during the past year, and human life safeguarded, and, undoubtedly, in some cases saved. On several occasions the fire department went to other communities to give assistance in fires that were beyond the capacity of local fire fighters.

Aside from the moral and civic responsibility of giving hearty support to the fireman's dance, there is the element of enjoyment to be considered. The Mokena volunteer fireman's dance is one of the big events of the year in Mokena. 3 YANKEES SOJOURN IN DIXIELAND

by Mrs. Margaret M. Semmler

The rich, loamy soil of the Mokena-Orland Park countryside, turning under the shares of tractor-drawn plows... the modern farm homes and big barns... the pastures, green and lush, with their grazing cattle—a truly inspiring outlook that makes one cognizant of the blessings that are ours to live in this fertile, prosperous area.

And it took me 3,700 miles to see it!

Last month I took a bit of time off for a trip, with my sister, Mrs. Clida Deadmore of Mokena, and my brother, Theodore Oestreich, of Joliet. That trip took us 3,700 miles through the south, where we saw many interesting things and much scenery that was beautiful.

But the drive that I took just a few days ago to Orland opened my eyes to the beauties of our own countryside, and I wouldn't trade it for any other place in the world.

I could not help but think, as I drove to Orland what a startling contrast this fair land of ours in northern Illinois offers to the lands we saw in that 3,700 mile trip. Here the genie of gasoline turns over the land; there, for the most part, they still struggle with the soil, trying to wrest from it a meager living. We passed field after field, in state after state, where a man, and a mule drawn plow fought the red dirt of the south.

We were on a motor trip to Sarasota, Fla., famed resort city on the Gulf of Mexico. We headed south on U. S. 41, on a day so fair we wondered if we were not making a bad bargain. Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and Florida followed in sequence.

Let us go back for a moment to Tennessee, where we traveled for a whole day through gorgeous mountains over beautiful highways with many hairpin curves. Spring had come to meet us. The mountains were upholstered in the white of the dogwood and pink of the mountain laurel, contrasted with the deep shades of the evergreens and the lighter greens of the deciduous trees. Everywhere was breathless beauty, with an undertone of poverty which we could not escape as we rolled along.

An interesting phase of our trip was the gradual deepening of summer as we penetrated farther into the southland. With each hundred miles there was a perceptible difference in temperature and vegetation. We passed through thriving cities which slowed us down, and through little towns and hamlets that have been sound asleep since the close of the Civil War. Gracious old southern homes there were, but for everyone of these there were a thousand where the hand of poverty had clamped rudely down. The famed "southern hospitality" was in evidence, and not once were we made aware as we traveled through the former Confederacy that we were Yankees.

In Georgia we saw roads being repaired by convict labor, with two men standing guard, gun ready, but we saw no evidence of ball or chain. We passed by many tobacco plantations, but each was of limited size, an acre or two. Tobacco seems to be a strange plant that shuns the sun. They burn the land first, then drape it over with cheese cloth, which hangs from a fence about 5 feet high, and it is propped up here and there, like a tent. When the growth reaches a certain stage the field is uncovered.

We reached Sarasota the fourth day, and stopped at the beautiful Sarasota Terrace hotel. We spent four days here, and made many side trips from this point. We visited old friends from Joliet at Siesta Keys, a five mile drive from Sarasota, and spent a most enjoyable afternoon and evening with them at their motel, the Conclave.

One of the beauties of Florida is the white sand. The beaches look like they were made of granulated sugar. Statelists among the Florida trees is the liveoak, in many cases centuries old, and festooned with hanging Spanish moss, some of which we brought back with us. The palm lined avenues of Florida made a deep impression, too. These palm trees stand up straight as an arrow, with a clump of broad green fronds on top. Their trunks at the base, and for a full 10 feet up and more, look as though they were made of concrete. Quite a sight when you see hundreds of them in a row, straight as a die, and drive along between them.

One of our most interesting trips in Florida was a day's trip to the Everglades, the world's biggest swamp. This vast area is inhabited largely by the Seminole Indians, who at last report were trying to recover Florida from the United States, claiming it belongs to them. Every little while we would drive by Indian villages, where good use was made of the palm leaves, roofs being thatched with them.

We drove hundreds of miles through the Everglades, which is seamed with wonderfully straight highways, and traversed by canals which must be 50 feet wide. Fishermen were everywhere, and they were catching fish. We saw so many fishermen, and so many blue lakes in which to fish, that I wanted to stop to go fishing, although I have never caught a fish in my life. Okeechobee was one of these lakes that we saw, one of the largest inland lakes in the United States, but it is banked up so high that we got a glimpse of it only now and then.

One of our trips from Sarasota was to Coral Gables, where we stayed over night with Mr. and Mrs. Harland Merrill and family. He was formerly with the News-Bulletin. We spent the evening reminiscing and visiting. They have a daughter Mary Betty and a son, Billy, who is now in the fourth grade at a special sight school, where he is doing fine.

The Merrill's wish to extend their greetings to all their friends in Mokena.

We enjoyed immensely driving over the new Sunshine Skyway bridge that crosses the bay from Tampa to St. Petersburg. This bridge which cost $22,250,000 is 14 miles long and crosses 11 miles of water. It is the world's largest span and has just been opened to traffic. The central section, 864 ft. long, above the main ship channel is 155 ft. above the water level. The bridge saves travelers some 40 miles.

It was our pleasure to drive through many citrus groves, which fortunately, were in the midst of the orange harvest. It was quite a sight to see wagons heaped with balls of gold on their way to market, or the light orange and bigger grapefruit. The famous Bok tower is located in the heart of the orange grove district. We were privileged to see this wonderful sight as well as to enjoy the water carnival and boat ride at Cypress Gardens, one of the most talked of places in Florida. We also spent some time in Miami, and all got a wonderful sun tan on their fabulous beaches.

Easter Sunday we attended services at America's first drive in church. This was an inspiring service. It was readily apparent the advantages this form of service offers to shut ins, who could stay in the car and attend services with a microphone opposite them, as in a drive in theatre. Programs and song books were handed to the occupants of each car, and everyone took part in the service in their own car. The services are very popular and are attended from people coming from a wide area.

We came home via a different route, and stopped off for a night at the magnificent Memphis motor hotel, which has 150 rooms, is double decked, and has wrought iron lattice work all around as in New Orleans. This is the very last word in motels and is reputed to have cost considerably in excess of a million dollars. One of our main reasons for coming home a different way and longer was to stop off and see our cousins, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Houchins, who will be remembered here by many local residents, as they have lived in Mokena in a trailer for several summers.

They live at Branson, Mo. in the Ozarks in a beautiful setting of hills. We stayed with them over Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Houchins will be 89 in August. She suffered a broken hip five months ago and is still unable to walk. The Houchins want to be remembered to all their friends in Mokena, and regret that it will be impossible for them to get here this summer.

Before reaching the Houchins at Branson we traveled through Arkansas, and immensely enjoyed spring in the Ozarks. They were not quite as high or as beautiful as the Tennessee mountains, but were something to see to be sure. The fields of Arkansas, which are a reddish brown, seemed to be covered with white "flowers", which happened to be limestone rocks. In talking to a new resident of Mokena last week who hailed from a mountainous region of Pennsylvania where rocks are plentiful in every field, he said: "I like Mokena very well, but where are the rocks?" proving that we are all creatures of environment.

Well, we are all back at work again. Spring greeted us here, too. While we were, gone the temperatures were mostly in the 90's or high 80's and we did not encounter a single storm on the entire trip, except the last lap of the journey on U. S. 66, when we got a roaring welcome to Illinois.

However, as I said in the beginning, that little trip to Orland Park the other day drove home the point that this is indeed "God's country." This is where I want to spend the remainder of my life, because there's no place like it. And I want to say this: if any farmer in this broad area thinks he's having a hard time of it just let him take a little trip through the south.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I don't know if I read correctly or not one week, I read in the paper that Tinley Park is going to expand and the following week I read that someone is against any form of business coming to Tinley Park. Someone was against the National Tea here and somebody even had nerve enough to send me a card by mail about the Sinclair station on Oak Park ave. They were also against the Tinley Park bakery expanding and I see now that there are people against the Roller skating rink being built on Oak Park ave. I believe that every family that has children will like to see that roller skating rink go up so that their children might have some amusement. I believe that Oak Park ave. should be a business street as everytown, your main street is a business street and have a lot of room along the railroad tracks for industry as industry and business will create more jobs and more taxes for this town. The same people were against the police department expanding and I believe they done a mighty fine job of expanding. What this town needs is a good hospital. It was a dream of our good old Dr. Carmichael before the war.

FAIR PLAY

Kiwanis Concert Is Great Success

The 7th annual Kiwanis chorus concert, held at Washington school auditorium, Chicago Heights, last Friday and Saturday, was a credit to Arthur Lambrecht of Frankfort, who directed it, and to all who participated. The concert was sold out both nights.

Guest artists were Betty Tryon, teacher of music at Lincoln-Way high school, and her husband, Paul Tryon, supervisor of music at Joliet grade school. Mrs. Tryon sang "One Kiss", and was accompanied by her husband in a duet, "Will you Remember," from "Maytime" and "Thine Alone," Mr. Tryon sang "L'Amour, Toujours L'Amour." All selections were greatly applauded.

Lillian Collins, accompanist and organ soloist, gave a splendid performance.

Among the stirring numbers at the concert were "The Old Rugged Cross," "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Home Sweet Home." The concert sang as their encore "Coney Island Babe."

The concert was concluded with the "Victor Herbert Medley" by the Tryons and chorus. The Kiwanians practice every week in the year except two weeks in July. They do this for the love of it. They are preparing now to go to Cleveland to sing at the International Kiwanis convention to be held there soon. They sang at the convention in New York, St. Louis and in many other places.

Mr. Lambrecht has been choir director of the First Reformed church in South Holland for the past 10 years, and for many years he directed the choir at the Glenwood school for boys.

Among those attending the concert from Frankfort, Friday were: Dr. and Mrs. Claude Otto and family, Robert Breidert, Dr. and Mrs. Merle Otto, Dr. and Mrs. Otto Novota, Dr. and Mrs. Carl Marienfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Morrison, Mrs. Gertrude Eichmier, Mrs. Edith Lambrecht, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, Frank Novak. On Saturday evening were Dr. and Mrs. John Cummings and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lambrecht, Mrs. Robert Anderson, Miss Viola Lankenau and Mr. and Mrs. Al Hochberger, also Mrs. Margaret Semmler and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith of Mokena.

The association wants residents of Mokena to know that they are 100 percent behind the effort.

National Declares Quarterly Dividend

A regular quarterly dividend of 40 cents per share on the $5 par value common shares of National Tea Co. was declared by company directors meeting on May 2. The dividend is payable June 1 to shares of record May 16, 1955. Sales for the year to date totaled $170,943,730 as compared with $152,825,144 for the corresponding period in 1954. This is an increase of 11.86 per cent.

National Tea's Chicago branch has moved its "pantry"—all 60 million pounds. The branch's dry grocery distribution operations for its 285 stores in the three state area it serves are now housed in a whopping big new "pantry" at 901 West Division st. The new distribution center is the largest one floor warehouse in Chicago, two city blocks long by one block wide.

The pedestrian record reflected the 4th consecutive year of improvement for motor vehicle accidents in 1954.

SET DEADLINE FOR EXCESS WHEAT ACRES

Cook County wheat growers who have excess wheat can still get into compliance if by May 31, 1955 They will utilize such acres for green manure, hay, pasture, or silage. This statement was issued a few days ago, by Mr. Carl Bormet, Chairman of the local ASC committee.

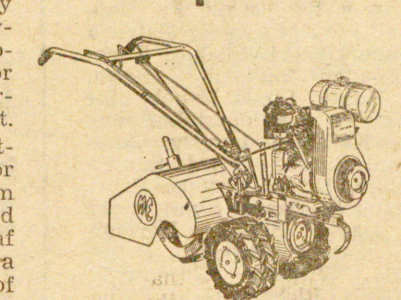

"This is an extremely important matter for farmers to consider, said Mr. Bormet because there are a number of advantages in keeping acreages within the allotment. Farmers who comply with allotments are not subject to marketing quota penalties; their production on the farm is eligible for price support, and their eligibility for assistance under the Agricultural Conservation Program is not affected."

"There is, however, a different type of option which some farmers may desire to follow. It applies in particular to farms on which the allotment is less than 15 acres and the acreage of wheat is in excess of 15. If there is no reduction in such acreage, the penalty applies to every acre above the allotment. However, the penalty itself can be avoided by merely reducing the acreage down to 15. In this case there will be no price support, and ACP eligibility may be affected, but at least the marketing quota penalty is eliminated."

"Any producer desiring to utilize a part of his acreage for green manure, hay, pasture or silage should take such action sometime ahead of the May 31, deadline date. It's always possible for the weather to turn bad and we would hate to have any of our farmers lose out by just a day or two," said Mr. Bormet.

"In all instances where farmers take advantage of this provision it will be necessary for a second inspection of the

Write Your Congressman Protesting This Project

Illinois taxpayers were warned this week that they would be faced with $276,000,000 in added taxes if the proposed Upper Colorado River Basin Project is passed by congress. The senate has already approved the bill and it is now pending in the House.

The tax map above shows how much the bills would cost the taxpayers of each state in the nation. These bills call for a number of large dams on the upper reaches of the Colorado river, and numerous irrigation projects in the states of Colorado, New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming. National tax authorities say that hidden subsidies in these so-called "reclamation" project bills would cost the people of the United States more than $4 billion in added taxes. The cost to each state is based on computations by the Tax Foundation, New York City and Washington, D.C.

The Colorado River Association, a volunteer citizens' organization with members in California and many other states, has joined conservation and taxpayer groups throughout the country in opposing the Upper Colorado River Basin Project bill. Many organizations are urging taxpayers to write or wire their congressmen immediately expressing opposition to the bill because of the added taxes it would cost everyone for the benefit of a privileged few.

Residents of Tinley Park and Orland should write or wire Congressman Wm. E. McVey, and residents of Will county should write or wire Congressman Noah Mason. The address of both is, House of Representatives Building, Washington, D.C. All should write or wire Senator Everett Dirksen and Senator Paul Douglas, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C.

Mokena Small Fry, Pony League News

The first day of spring practice began with a surprising number of boys coming out with a purpose of proving that each and every one was good enough to make the first team. Monday and Thursday evenings have been set aside for the Small Fry but many Pony Leaguers were present to cheer the little fellows and lend a hand with the training program. A rough guess is that there were some sixty boys present, each one hopeful. A very encouraging sign was the number of adult coaches who were present and the vigor with which they went about their duties. Herbert Wrath has full charge and is in full authority in running the Small Fry training program, and from the looks of things he has everything well under control. There were at least ten men going about coaching and from the pep some of them displayed one would think they were out to win over the little fellows in making the team.

Tuesday and Friday evenings have been set aside for Pony League practice sessions, and while there are far less Pony Leaguers the coaches will find that their time will be well spent as each boy is eager to learn more than they know with the determination to make a good showing in the league games.

George Bennett will act as head coach and field manager of the Pony Leaguers and will be assisted by Henry Clark and George Haehnline. George Bennett and Bob Hohenstein will coach the catchers, Harold "Lefty" Schult and Gary "Bullet" Swart will coach the pitching prospects, Jim Marty and Arnold Lawson will coach the infielders and the outfielders will be coached by Wendell Hamilton and Dave Tierney.

During the Monday evening practice session a peppy individual made his presence felt with his handling of the Small Fry pitching prospects and it was none other than Art Marshall of Sunny Acres. It was a good feeling to see the adults take such an interest, with their assistance the success of both teams seems assured. —J. Porick.

Bremen Thinclads Win Second Place In Tri-School Meet

Bremen high school thinclads swept to second place in a tri-school track meet at Reavis Friday, May 6.

Stealing the show were the Oak Lawn Spartans who garnered 72 markers while Reavis collected 35 points to finish close behind the Braves.

Onis Bond by contributing runner-up spots in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and a third in the broad jump was Bremen's biggest point getter.

Top honors went to the mile relay team (Ron Berens, Bill Frommeling, John Sinew, and Onis Bond) who galloped the distance in one minute and 40.3 seconds.

With Milford Robinson, Tom Devlin, Bill Schram, and Tom Caples dashing ahead of the field Bremen's mile relay squad added another first to its total.

Coach Larry Callan's frosh-soph speedsters finished far ahead of the Oak Lawn and Reavis underclassmen. Sophomore sensation Matt Stupak collected three seconds to pace the attack.

On May 3 Bremen Cindermen edged past the Reavis Rams, 61-57.

Bremen Braves Lose To Rich, 8-3

Bremen high school Braves dropped a conference tilt, 8-3, to the Rich nine on the home diamond last week.

Hammering out a barrage of circuit clouts, the Rockets snatched the Braves' winning streak at four games and quelled for the time being Bremen's hope for the championship.

Rich moundstay, Larry Fuller, whiffed 9 batters in his seven inning stint and crossed the plate with two of his team's runs.

TINLEY'S TAP LANSING 10-3 IN FIRST TILT

The Tinley Park baseball team went to Lansing Sunday and swamped that outfit 10 to 3. It was Tinley's first game.

Tinley batters found the pitching of Holdt just what the doctor ordered and ran up a total of 17 hits in amassing their 10 runs. Tinley used three pitchers and they held the host team to four hits.

WARNING

Warning has been issued by the Will county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, that all mercury treated grain is poisonous and farmers are cautioned against mixing any left over treated seed with marketable grain. The commodity credit corporation refuses to accept any grain in which there is evidence of treated seed.

Three Boy Scouts of Tinley Park have been elected to the Order of the Arrow. The three are, John Redman, Barry Haber and Richard Bussain.
The Order of the Arrow is one of the highest awards in scouting and only first class scouts can be elected to it.
Three were elected out of four selected. All the boys kept complete silence while a group dressed as Indians selected the candidate for the Order of the Arrow.
Also elected at the meeting was a councilman, Richard Nebel.

The sixth grades, under the direction of William Harris, have been studying the globe. They studied the longitude and latitude, the Prime Meridian and the international date line. For the last session of work on the globe they had to find the longitude and latitude of ten cities in North America and South America.

Coach W. J. Kosteck of the Tinley Park school held tryouts last week for the 50 and 100-yard dashes to be run in the track meet at Blue Island May 20.
Best time was made by Dennis Tatum—6.75 seconds for the 50 yd. dash and 13 seconds for the hundred.
Other events in the meet to be held in Blue Island include a 440 yard relay, the broad and high jumps, and the shot put.
Boys trying out for the dashes were from the gym classes of the seventh and eighth grades.

The safety patrol of the Tinley Park public school will go to see the Chicago Cubs play the St. Louis Cardinals May 26. They will be accompanied by the basketball team, cheer leaders, monitors and the pupils who work for the school.

Lynden DeYoung had a mass meeting May 3, in his home room to make changes in the safety patrol squads.

Geography of the United States is the subject that the pupils of the seventh grades of the Tinley Park school are now taking up in Social Studies class.
The subject is divided into parts. The parts that the pupils have already studied deal with the United States as an agricultural nation, its fisheries and forests. They are now studying about the United States as a manufacturing nation. Small tests are given at the end of each part and then a big test will be given that covers all the geography of the United States. The social studies teacher is William Harris.

Girl Scout Troop 334 held an investiture ceremony on May 2, for these girls: Karen Hattendorf, Bonita Rusin, and Janet Darby. They were received into the troop by Mrs. E. J. Zoben, leader, and Mrs. B. E. Yepsen, co-leader.

Mrs. Ava Funk, assistant neighborhood chairman, helped the girls plan a cookout for May 9, to be held at Carlson Springs. An overnight camp also is being planned for September.

Five girls received badges. They are: Audrey Nielson, Susan Schullen, Beverly Draves, Frances Swisher and Sharon Jochum.

The baseball fever is in the air, and the Tinley Park public school has caught it. W. J. Kas-tecki, the school's gym director has started the intramural baseball program.

Four of the scheduled games have already been played. The first two games were won by Walter Eggert's Wild Cats, and Bill O'Neill's Eagles, respectively. The third game resulted in a tie between Bill Hoffman's Go Go's and Wayne Darby's Tiny Tots. The fourth and most recent game was won by Jim Hartman's Sloppy Sams.

The games which are played on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, will continue until school lets out.

Miss Frances Thurson, language arts teacher at Tinley Park school, received a letter from Mrs. Eloise Childress, former music teacher at the Tinley Park school. Mrs. Childress taught music at the school for two years.
Miss Thurson read the letter to all of her language arts classes. Mrs. Childress is now living in French Morocco where her husband is stationed. In her letter she tells about the food, the customs, and the prices of French Morocco.

Many pupils have written in answer to her letter.

The expected sales and use tax bills sponsored by Gov. Stratton were introduced in the Senate last week.

The sales tax measure would raise the present two percent rate to three percent for one year, ending June 30, 1956.

Designed to place a sales tax on goods bought outside the state, the use tax bill places a tax of 3 percent on such goods until June 30, 1956, and then reduces the tax to 2 percent. This bill also repeals the present cigarette use tax.

Gov. Stratton says the state needs the additional one hundred million dollars revenue the bills would produce for school and mental health expenses.
Chief opposition to the sales tax bill is coming from the retail merchants.

Led by Joe Meek, head of the Illinois retailers, the merchants claim the proposed tax boost is unfair and that the added revenue would do little to directly help local school districts.

Merchants all over the state are now circulating petitions among their customers protesting the sales tax hike.
All of this puts the legislator on the spot. On one hand, none of us favor any increase in your taxes which are high enough as it is. On the other hand, if more money for schools is needed, the people eventually must foot the bill for their schools.

Insiders on the Springfield scene are predicting the bills will pass by a narrow margin, but not until after a determined and bitter fight.

Other bills tossed into the hopper last week included one that would change the hours that polling places are open to give certain workers a better chance to vote. Under its provisions the polls would stay open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., instead of from 6 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A bill to permit absentee voting for persons who are ill or disabled passed in the house. This proposal has hit a snag that must be ironed out before it can become law. Christian Scientists, who rightfully should be permitted to benefit by this bill, may not, according to their beliefs, submit certain required medical proofs of sickness or disability.

A measure to prohibit the sale of any new passenger car with more than 200 horsepower has been introduced, and a proposition to issue driver's licenses for motor scooter drivers, has been placed before the assembly.

The house has passed the bill creating an Illinois veterans commission to investigate ways and means to finance a Korean veterans bonus. While this bill now goes to the senate the bill to award an immediate bonus is close behind it, having been approved by the house military affairs committee.

Anti-communist legislation sponsored by Senator Broyles, of Mt. Vernon, was favorably reported by the military affairs committee and chances of final passage are considered good.

These measures, which require loyalty oaths from certain government employees and outlaw membership in subversive organizations, got their biggest boost when a representative of the Illinois communist party appeared against them.

A member of the house who opposes these bills created a stir last week when he announced that his life had been threatened in a letter from a writer who favors their passage. Senators Broyles and Meyer, principal sponsors of this legislation, have received enough threatening letters from opponents to paper a room.

In other activity last week, chances for a nine month school year increased as the senate education committee approved a bill with provisions to extend the present school season one month.

The big education news of the week was the introduction of a bill sponsored by forty-five members of the house to appropriate four million dollars for land for a four year division of the University of Illinois in Chicago.

At a meeting with the school board, Friday evening, Mrs. Helen Lembke, who has taught at Maue school the past eight years, was granted a release from her contract to teach at the school next year. The board agreed on the release when Mrs. Lembke explained that the change would be advantageous to her. Mrs. Lembke, who has had special study in primary teaching, has taught the lower grades for six years. During her first two years at the school she taught all eight grades. It is hoped that her next position will be commensurate with her training and experience and that she will continue to find much happiness in her profession.

There was good representation from the Orland Boys 4-H club as the class in farm electricity held in the Farm Bureau building Thursday evening.

The Orland Boys 4-H club will hold a regular monthly meeting in the Maue school, Monday evening, May 16.

The Maue school board met at the school Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. Besides interviewing applicants for the position left open by Mrs. Brown, the board discussed current problems and tentative recommendations were made regarding policies and plans for the next school year.

It sure would help if those clouds which have been threatening a lot the past week would really open up and get down to business for a while. Things are beginning to look pretty dry.

Participants in the recent baseball games between Maue and the Doctor school and Maue and Orland Park, have been commended highly for their good sportsmanship. Both games were held on Maue grounds and both events were won by Maue.

Some of the dogs on 104th and 102nd avenues were inoculated against rabies last week. It should be remembered that even though the district is not under quarantine, the law requires inoculation for rabies.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Culp entertained 15 guests at dinner following the christening of their grandchildren, Helen and Charles David Slansky of Worth, Sunday. Helen and Charles David were christened in the Immanuel Evangelical church at 98th and Campbell, Chicago. Rev. William Rest officiated.

Another case of mumps has been reported in the district. This time on 104th ave.

4-H News

The Alpine Girls 4-H club held a meeting at the Maue school Tuesday evening, which opened with the Pledge of Allegiance. Betty Jean Stellwagen presided. Following the routine business, Mrs. Harwood Stellwagen gave a lesson on pressing. She explained the inner workings of the steam and ordinary iron and instructed on what and what not to do with an iron. She also showed how to repair a cord that had burned out at the plug. Members experimented with hot iron transfers on dish towels which they presented to their mothers for mother's day. They also experimented with ironing cords and plugs. A new member, Nora Holz, was welcomed into the club. Hostesses were Sandra Cardeman, Arlene Andersen and Billy Donovan.

Suggests Most Nutritious Snacks

Springtime means increased activities for most members of the family, meaning a need for more food. And the chances are that extra food will be eaten as snacks. So make sure these between-meal bits are nutritious, says Miss Geraldine Asker, foods specialist at the University of Illinois. Instead of eating only high - carbohydrate foods like cake, cookies or pie and a bottled beverage, why not snack on a meat, peanut butter, cheese or egg sandwich and a glass of milk, she suggests.

The disappearance of coal-burning locomotives from Kentucky railroad lines has raised a problem for Kentucky cinder and concrete block plants, which find it difficult now to obtain sufficient cinders to keep up production. The locomotives were the industry's last good source of cinder supply.

Parents To Meet; May Form Class For Blind Children

All south suburban parents of visually handicapped children are invited to meet at 8:30 pm., Friday, May 13, with other parents and with Mrs. Dorothy Bryan of the Illinois department of public instruction to discuss the possibility of establishing a braille class in the area.

The meeting, to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Asner, 288 Lakewood, Park Forest, will also be concerned with planning for enrollment of sight saving classes for partially seeing.

Mrs. Bryan, who is in charge of the state's program for educating visually handicapped, will explain how the state helps selected local school districts to conduct and support braille classes. A group of south suburban parents believes that if all blind youngsters in the area are known about, there will prove to be enough to qualify for a new braille class, such as those started last fall in Evanston and Wheeling public schools.

Without such a class near home, parents point out, blind children of the area will get their education by living at the state school at Jacksonville during the school year or traveling hours each day to Chicago if limited facilities are available to non residents. Sight saving classes are conducted at Joliet and Chicago Heights. All interested parents have been urged to get in touch with Mrs. Asner even if they are unable to attend the May 13 meeting. SCHOOLS LOSE ON OBJECTIONS TO TAX LEVIES

Elementary school districts in Frankfort township had a net loss in taxes of $726.94 as a result of objections filed in county court by the railroads on the 1952 levy, according to figures in a report released by the office of County School Superintendent Verne E. Cracker. Work on the 1953 tax objections filed by the railroads in the Will county court has not been completed.

The Rock Island's objections to the school levies in Frankfort township were sustained by the court. This cost School District 159 the sum of $305.88 and District No. 161 loses $171.54.

The other objections affecting Frankfort township school districts were filed by the New York Central and there was one objection filed by the E.J. & E. against the levy in District 154. That objection resulted in the loss to District 154 of $179.64.

District 154 was ahead of the New York Central, however. The N.Y.C. succeeded in making objections of $45.43 in taxes, stick, but was overruled on other objections in the sum of $80.75.

District 155 broke even. The objections overruled amounted to $31.42 cents while the objections sustained was the same sum, $31.42.

In District 156 the objections overruled involved $33.02 in taxes, while the objections sustained, that is to say the ruling was against the school district, amounted to $171.36.

Some in New Lenox

In New Lenox township the Rock Island was successful getting its objections sustained to $129.43 of taxes in district 121, but the district was successful in getting objections overruled to $172.53 of taxes. And in districts 123 and 124 the Rock Island's objections, respectively $55.92 and $69.26, were overruled. Objections of the E.J. & E. to $119.12 in taxes in District 119 were overruled and with the New York Central District 119 had $51.40 of objections overruled while the railroads objections amounting to $31.48 were upheld by the court.

District 121 lost $77.22 to the N.Y.C. thru objections but gained $102.96. District 123 had a net gain of $13 after objections sustained were balanced against objections overruled.

District 119 gained $63.83 when the Wabash's objections in that amount were overruled. District 124 lost $1.73 to the Wabash and District 125 had a net loss of $173.80 on objections filed by the Wabash.

The railroads do not take advantage of all the technicalities as they formerly did and actually give aid to the schools in pointing out from time to time how boards can avoid objections.

GIFTS DURING LIFE CAN SAVE DEATH TAXES

Farm families can often save thousands of dollars in death taxes by taking advantage of the $30,000 or $60,000 federal gift tax exemption. This is important to the farm family that saves the money - but it is also important to a society that must in the end pay for efficient farm production caused by high transfer tax costs. Paying property transfer taxes reduces and often takes all the operating capital of a farm. In some cases the heirs must sell a parcel of land or mortgage the entire farm to pay transfer taxes and other costs.

For those families in a position to make lifetime gifts, they are an excellent device (1) to reduce state and federal inheritance taxes, (2) to reduce income tax payable by the parents, (3) to reduce administration and probate costs at death, and (4) to furnish children with land or capital at an age when they most need it to get started in farming.

The gift tax law provides that: 1. Each person has a lifetime exemption of $30,000 that may be used up by any number of gifts. When gifts are made jointly by husband and wife, each may take this exemption, making a total of $60,000.

2. Each person has an annual exclusion of $3,000 for each gift made to each different individual. This exclusion is not charged against the $30,000 exemption.

3. Gifts made to charitable, educational and civic organizations are not taxed.

4. A gift to a husband or wife from the other is taxable only

Claims Topped Carrots Have More Food Value

Don't hesitate to buy carrots in cellophane bags.

Milton C. Geuther, formerly of Mokena, marketing specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says that topped carrots may be even better than those with the tops left on.

Geuther says that carrots are still alive when harvested. Leaves of living plants give off moisture. For that reason those with the greens left on will tend to dry out and lose some of their food value. High-quality carrots that are kept cool and moist after the tops have been cut off will keep their quality.

The same holds true for radishes.

Geuther says topping carrots has another advantage. With the tops off they are less bulky and you won't have to pay for transportation and refrigeration of the green which you'll discard anyway if the checker in the grocery store doesn't do it.
